MQ OFFICE ANNOUNCEMENT

There have been some exciting changes in the Minnesota Quilters office. The biggest news is that Becky McPeek, our Office Manager, has been promoted to Business Manager. Becky’s job has changed and grown so much over the past year that the Board of Directors decided it was time to give Becky a much deserved promotion. Her many talents have been an asset to the MQ organization. Please join us in congratulating Becky in her new official role. Along with Becky’s promotion to Business Manager, the MQ Office will now be open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Becky is ready and willing to answer questions and provide assistance to anyone who needs it. She will direct you to the proper person to contact if she is unable to answer your questions. As her duties do sometimes take her out of the office, it would be best to call ahead and make sure she will be in the office if you need her help or need to get in the office. Char Wenger and Sue Sandager, Operations Co-Directors

MQ has a tradition of presenting our president with “thank you” blocks for her year in term. Past President, Paula Gaboury, has chosen any size, any color, any variation of a suit.

MQ Holiday Brunch

Wow what a day, Saturday, December 1 – the first snowstorm of the season and the MQ Holiday Brunch.

If you did not attend this event then you missed the fun, excitement and we can’t forget the entertainment. Oh my, what entertainment it was! No wonder they are called the “WILDKATS”. They had a song for all of life’s journeys, from a young child to a grandmother. The WILDKATS really did a wonderful job of making us laugh through the journey of life and all that it entails.

We, as quilters, enjoy life, food and fun and that is what the Holiday Brunch was about. We’d like to thank everyone that participated in the block and ornament exchange, the ugly fabric challenge, and of course ‘show and tell’.

Once again the food at St. Thomas was wonderful and the committee did a great job of organizing this year’s event.

So thank you to Karen O’Brien, Mary Montez, Martha Eaves, Doris Kraemer, and Sharlene Wimpfheimer for all their hard work to make this years brunch a success. Thank you also to everyone that volunteered to work on next years brunch, so mark your 2008 calendar with the Minnesota Quilters Holiday Brunch on Saturday December 6, 2008 it’s a great way to kick off your holidays with life, food and fun.
February's Speaker

February 7th and 9th speaker
Susan Cleveland: My Eclectic Quilt Pageant

February 8th - Workshop: Piping Hot Curves-Eye of the Piper

Susan’s enthusiasm for quilting is said to be contagious! Students enjoy her upbeat attitude, well-written instructions, and one-on-one attention included in every workshop. Her quilts have been receiving awards in international-level competitions since 1999. Judges comment on her fine workmanship and appreciate her original style. She bases her designs on traditional patterns then adds specialty threads, prairie points, piping and great binding techniques. She is inventor of the “Groovin’ Piping Trimming Tool” which is used to trim piping seam allowance. Susan is passionate about sharing quilts and teaching her techniques!

She lives on 70 acres in southeastern Minnesota with her husband, son, daughter, 2 dogs and several cats.

Join us in February when we welcome Minnesota’s first piping “Hottie” as she inspires us with her quilts and shows us techniques from her latest book “Piping Hot Curves.”

A Group of Volunteer Women . . .
by Martha A. Eaves

Over the past months, I have been asking if people would send in recollections of their early involvement in MQ as a “prequel” to our 30th Anniversary. If you have been following this column, I have gotten a few takers! Well, I decided to add my own recollections. I am member number 913. Back when MQ was young, the newsletter used to list the name and address of every new member, so you can find me in the January, 1982 newsletter along with 11 other newcomers. Perhaps like others, I had attended some earlier meetings as a guest, and I remember my first meeting well.

The prior year, I had taken a class in quilting at a shop in Richfield and the teacher there stressed that you could not be a “quilter” unless you did everything by hand. Of course, we did not have rotary cutters yet, and scissors and templates made out of cardboard were taught. [I had a tin template of my grandmothers which she used to make all her many Lone Star quilts, but that was considered unusual!)

I also had a sewing machine, but when I had asked in class if we could piece by machine, my teacher [whom I am sure was a charter member of the quilt police] drew in a breath of horror!

Coming to my rescue outside of class was Sue Stein. Sue had a quilt shop on Snelling Ave, and from visiting that shop, I learned that people really did use the sewing machine to put quilts together. Sue invited me to my first MQ meeting, which was held in the Richfield library. What an incredible event it was for me: I do not recall who the speaker was, but I was overwhelmed by the Show and Tell [Does this sound familiar?] Women of all ages and skill levels shared their work and explained what they did. The library was hauled in from someone’s trunk, and the books laid out on tables in the back of the room. And of course, there were treats!!

Although I joined up in January 1982, I could not always come to meetings. But just knowing the group was there, and that I had people who shared my love of fabric and tops. And even occasionally when I had something completed, those same people wanted to see it, kept me involved with the group. I am proud to be number 913 in MQ! So what is your story??
MARK YOUR CALENDARS FOR THE 2008 FALL GETAWAY!!

The dates of October 9-12, 2008 for the Fall Getaway have been confirmed. We will again be having the retreat at the Forestry Center near Cloquet, Minnesota.

We will have some fun events and activities planned, but mostly it is just a chance to get away and sew up a storm in a beautiful north woods setting. Watch for updates in future newsletters. Trish Timms, Char Wenger and Kathy Yano will be your hosts.

January theme: Jewel Tones

Ten months each year you have the opportunity to build your stash. Contribute up to three fat quarters (approximately 18” x 22”) of quilt-shop quality 100% cotton fabric in the theme of the month, and we’ll enter your name in the Fat Quarter Drawing for that month (one entry for each fat quarter contributed, up to a maximum of three). Attach your name, address, and phone number to each fat quarter.

The January drawing features jewel tone fabrics (think about MQ’s June show theme: Quilted Jewels). Bring your 1-2-or 3 fat quarters to the Thursday evening or Saturday morning meeting or mail it to the MQ office:

Fat Quarter Drawing
3000 University Avenue SE
Minneapolis, MN 55414

so that it arrives before the Saturday meeting.

We draw one name at the beginning of the Saturday morning meeting. You need not be present to win.

Plan ahead: February’s theme will be the night sky/moon/stars/comets.

MQP’s next project is an exhibit at the Minnetonka Area Center from March 6th to April 10th. We are seeking new quilts that show a relationship to traditional quilts in inspiration, materials, technique, etc, but with a modern twist. If you own such a quilt and are willing to show it to an eager public, contact Gail Bakkom at 612-825-9924, or email her at gjbkkom@earthlink.net. Please put "quilt" in the subject line!
ONLINE REGISTRATION

Yes, Online Pre-Registration for the annual show is back. And this time, it's real time. You will know immediately if the class you want is available.

Go to www.mnquilt.org and click on the “Register for the 2008 show” link. You will first see a log in page. If you’re a member, your id and password is on the label of this newsletter, they include your MQ member number and your zip code. If you’re not a member, you’ll be prompted to create a log in and password to register online.

As a member, when you log in, your member profile information will automatically complete the fields. You can change any information (if you want the registration confirmation sent to a different email or address). If the information is incorrect, you can make the corrections on this page, too.

Read the information in the Show Registration Book for all the details about registering online.

If you don’t want to register online you may still mail your registration form and payment to the MQ office, following the instructions in the Show Registration book. Mailed registrations will be processed on a first received, first entered, weekly basis, but you are not guaranteed you will get your first choice in classes.

We recommend that for best chances, you mail your registration early enough so that it will be in the MQ offices by January 15. You will receive email confirmation if you provide an email address, otherwise you will receive a confirmation of enrollment in the mail. Whichever way you chose to Pre-Register you will receive written confirmation with appropriate tickets in the mail.

We are excited about offering online membership management, but know that there may be some glitches in the first month or so. We appreciate your understanding and patience as we iron out any issues that may pop up.
Quilted Jewels News

January
One month closer to the ROCHESTER SHOW

January is such a fun month. It’s the best time of all to put that binding on your quilt. What better excuse to sit quietly under a warm quilt with no guilt. After all, you are “working”. You’re putting the binding on.

As you stitch, your mind can wander to the good memories of the holiday season and plans for the next family get together. I like to make plans for my garden, the next family get together, the next quilt project, the next quilt getaway… I will also think about who is getting the quilt I am working on. I imagine their faces and the smiles. I think about keeping them warm and cozy on cold winter nights. But if you are not at the point of binding your quilt, you don’t have to despair… January is also a great month to “veg” out in front of the ironing board, sewing machine or cutting board.

After the hectic days of the Holidays, it’s nice to have some down time. Who wants to iron their fabric for their quilt project on a hot July day?

Then there is also a great feeling of satisfaction in having your project all cut and ready to sew.

January is a great time to enjoy the vegetative state of “string piecing”. These are all of the small steps to getting your quilt project ready for the MQ show in Rochester. After all, another quilter can really enjoy your Quilt. They know it’s not a blanket!

From your co-chairs of the Non-Judged Committee, we will see you in Rochester. Bring your Quilts and SHARE!

Doreen Speckmann Scholarship

Are you a new quilter, or have you completed less than 3 full size quilts in the last 2 years?

If this doesn’t fit you, do you know someone that does fit this profile?

It’s time to start thinking about the Doreen Speckmann Scholarship for the 2008 show.

Last year we only had 3 applications, there has to be more new quilters out there than that.

Please spread the word, tell all the new quilters you know about this great opportunity to further their skills.

The application is available at the MQ web site and will be printed in the December and January newsletters. It’s easy to enter and all have a good chance to win.

describes the nature of Susan's work succinctly: "Susan specializes in developing innovative techniques for easier construction and applying them to create contemporary designs from traditional patterns."

It is some of these "innovative techniques" that are on showcase in Fabric Art Workshop. Twenty-seven techniques for playing with fabric are presented here, with detailed instructions and beautiful photographs illustrating the processes and the end results. The collection of techniques is presented as a way for the reader to play with fabric; the techniques are individually very manageable for a person who might be dealing with a limited amount of free time. In the introduction to the book, the author mentions the fabric journal quilt concept, which Sue Rutford presented to MQ at recent meetings. These techniques are used to create projects that are journal pages. The techniques are not meant to take much time or special equipment: "These small and portable projects make catching some creative time easy."

The various techniques presented are those in which fabric is painted, foiled, dyed, stamped, bleached, printed, screen printed... and, would you believe, marbled using shaving cream?

The book is very straightforwardly designed and written, and easy to use. Materials and tools lists are provided in each section, as well as some very helpful “Susan Suggests” boxes. A handy Resources page and Index to the book add value. An Artists’ Gallery is presented as a special treat.

This book is in the Textile Center Library, but it is one that you might need to own for yourself (the book is for sale in the Textile Center shop and at Susan’s shop, Colorful Quilts & Textiles). I knew that I needed my own personal copy, because the book is just so amazing. It looks like immense fun, and I can’t wait to get started playing!
